FIRST AID: Watford boss Boothroyd picks up his Coca-Cola Manager of the Month award - but he still cannot sleep

Aidy is up at the top ...and he's up all night!

Aidy Boothroyd should be in dreamland, but he cannot get a decent night's sleep.

With his team six points clear at the top of the League, you would think the Watford boss had nothing to keep him awake at night.

But Boothroyd, the Coca-Cola Championship Manager of the Month for October, said: "I'm not even allowing myself to dream about promotion.

"In fact, I don't sleep much. There are too many things to think about.

"We might be top, but it's a very open division where any team on their day can beat anybody else. I keep telling the players we're only ever one game away from a hammering.

"I never expected to be six points ahead at this stage but I am happy we are because it will protect us when we have that little sticky spell.

"If we can be consistent it puts pressure on the other teams around us. The more we can keep improving the better."

Boothroyd bagged the award after his Hornets won all five of their matches in October, conceding just two goals along the way.

The Hertfordshire club are unbeaten in 10 League games since they were thumped 4-1 at Leicester on August 25.

Boothroyd added: "That was a great result for us - possibly the best of the season. I didn't think so at the time, but it gave us the kick up the backside we needed.

"It sent a message around the dressing room: If we're not at it, we'll get beaten.

"We've got a nice confidence about us at the moment and we feel that even when we're not playing well we can win."

The form of forwards Marlon King and Darius Henderson has certainly been a huge advantage to Boothroyd in the early stages of this campaign.

King has scored seven times, while Henderson has eight goals to his name.

Boothroyd beat Ipswich's Jim Magilton, Plymouth Argyle manager Ian Holloway and Bristol City boss Gary Johnson to this month's prize.

Coca-Cola Ambassador and chair of the judges panel, Chris Kamara, said: "Credit must go to Watford, they knew they had found a fantastic manager in Aidy and had no doubt about sticking with him when they were relegated.

"It has been a great start, but I know what Aidy is saying about not being able to sleep properly.

"Football does not allow you to look back, you are always looking to the future. As a manager you wake up in the night thinking about your players or the opposition."

Stanley on map in Africa

Accrington Stanley is becoming a big name...in Africa.

Midfielder Rommy Boco is a hero in his homeland of Benin, after helping them to the African Cup of Nations for only the second time in their history.

Boco, 22, will face Ivory Coast, Mali and Nigeria when the tournament gets underway in January.

He hopes to raise Stanley's profile around the world with his performances.

Boco said: "It is on television, and Accrington will be mentioned when we play.

"I could miss between three and five games, depending on how far we get. We have no big name players, but people will know about us soon."

Accrington will turn The Crown pub, next door to their Fraser Eagle Stadium, into a venue for Stanley followers to support their African hero by showing all his matches live.

Powell is taking on txt bullies

As a no-nonsense defender, Charlton Athletic's Chris Powell has never been one to shirk a challenge.

The former England international is now using his time away from the field to help combat text bullying.

Powell is leading a community project designed to help youngsters who are victims of abuse through messages on their mobile phones.

Powell said: "New technology is great, but we need to make sure it's used properly and doesn't become a bullies' weapon.

"I urge anyone who feels they are being bullied to ask for help.

"A project like this will help publicise both the ways in which youngsters can ask for help - and make clear to bullies that their actions will not be tolerated."

Roberto: My Swans are just top flight

By DEAN JONES

Roberto Martinez has moulded a Swansea City side that he would not swap for love, nor money.

In fact, he would not even swap them for a set of players already established in the Championship.

The Spaniard believes his players have gelled so well this term that they are already on course for promotion.

Martinez has been named the Coca-Cola League 1 Manager of the Month for October after a run of five successive wins.

It is the best form Swansea have shown since their 1999/2000 title winning season in the old Third Division.

Martinez, who first tasted League football with Wigan Athletic back in 1995, said: "Strength in depth is vital.

Players cannot be allowed to feel they are certain to play week-in, week-out. That does not bring out the best in them.

"It's a fantastic situation. I wouldn't swap my squad for any other in League 1.

"In fact, I wouldn't swap it with many sides in the Championship either.

"It's about being hungry to play every single game and to be successful.

"My players have got that,

SMART: Swansea's Martinez says his squad is the tops and that's why I wouldn't swap my squad for any other."

Martinez enjoyed a spell as a player at Swansea between 2003 and 2006, and returned to the club as manager in February after a brief stint with Chester City.

Swansea's winning run last month saw them overcome Swindon Town, Leyton Orient, Bournemouth and Yeovil Town in the League. They defeated Wycombe Wanderers in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy.

It was thrilling away victories, 5-0 at Orient and 4-1 at Bournemouth, which stood out.

Chris Kamara said: "That win at Orient, who were then top of the League, really made people sit up and take notice.

"Roberto has been in England for a long time, and he knows what The League is all about."

John, 15 inspires young talent

By ANDY LULHAM

John Bostock became Crystal Palace's youngest-ever player on his debut for The Eagles at Selhurst Park this week.

Schoolboy Bostock was 15 years 287 days old when he was introduced by Neil Warnock against Championship leaders Watford – and if the pressure wasn't great enough already – the game was also live on Sky Sports!

Palace manager Warnock said: "He's still at school but he trains with us on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. He comes from a very level-headed family. His father is very sensible and knows what's best.

"John is better off playing 100 games for us in two seasons than being 20th pick at another club."

Bostock is just the tip of The Football League iceberg when it comes to producing young talent.

Last season saw more than 500 home-grown players, under the age of 21, appear in League matches.

Watford's Moses Ashikodi also made his debut at 15, when on loan at Millwall in 2003. West Ham's Matthew Etherington, formerly of Peterborough United, and Scott Sinclair, who was on loan to Plymouth from Chelsea last season, are also in the exclusive Under-16s Debut Club.

More than 8,000 young footballers aged between eight and 18 are currently registered with Football League clubs and supervised by nearly 2,000 full and part-time staff.

The Guv'nor Incey leads by example

By DEAN JONES

Paul Ince is making a big impression on his players at MK Dons.

Not only is he proving himself as one of the country's best young managers, but he is also teaching his team a thing or two on the training field.

The Dons are currently the table toppers and three points clear of second-placed Chester City.

Ince has been named the Coca-Cola League 2 Manager of the Month for October after a fantastic set of results that took his all-action side on a nine-match run of victories.

Milton Keynes full-back Dean Lewington said: "Everything has been simplified.

"The Guv'nor has got us playing football the right way and every player is enjoying it.

"We know we have to be able to cope with the physical side of the game, and we can. Our play then shines through.

"And I will tell you something else, he has still got the amazing talent that made him such a good player.

"In training he joins in and the other day he looked like he was going to make a pass, but attempted to lob the keeper from 50 yards!

"We learn a lot from him and he deserves this award."

Ince took over during the

INCE PERFECT: MK Dons chief is still the Guv'nor summer, as MK Dons moved into a brand new all-seater stadium.

The campaign began with just one victory from the opening four games, but Ince then led the Dons up the table.

Their winning streak came to an end last week against Stockport. Chris Kamara said: "Anyone who goes on an unbeaten run like Paul did deserves credit.

"It was a fantastic achievement. Incey was disappointed not to win the award in September, and that is a good sign. When we decide on a Manager of the Month we consider everything, we do not just look at statistics. If that was the case, we would not need a panel to decide the winner.

"Paul had a month to remember in October. He has got MK Dons heading in the right direction."

League Awards back in town

The Football League Awards, incorporating FourFourTwo's top 50 Football League players, will return to London in March.

The event has become an exciting fixture in the season's calendar over the past two years, and celebrates everything great about The Football League, both on and off the pitch.

Awards include the FourFourTwo Player of the Year for each division, Contribution to League Football, and Community Club of the Year.

This season's Awards night will take place on Sunday March 2 at the London Hilton hotel, on Park Lane.

The event promises to be a fantastic evening of entertainment for everyone.

Roeder debut on telly

By SARAH JENKINS

A trip to Layer Road on Saturday kicks off another weekend of live Championship action on Sky Sports 1.

Colchester United host Leicester City in a 5.20pm kick off, as both sides aim to push towards the top end of the League table.

The East Anglian derby follows on Sunday at 12.45pm, as new Norwich City manager Glenn Roeder welcomes Ipswich Town to Carrow Road.

And Simon Davey's Barnsley complete the channel's three days of coverage, when they take on Blackpool at Oakwell on Monday in a 7.45pm kick off.

Five Live Extra's new digital radio service will also offer commentary of a live Football League clash on Saturday from 2.40pm.

A round-up of all the action will be screened on ITV 1 from 10.25am on Sunday morning, as Matt Smith runs through all the goals and incidents.

The Rovers join up with war heroes

Poppies will be worn with pride at Tranmere Rovers this week as the club join forces with the Royal British Legion.

Players have met with former servicemen at Prenton Park, and the club will hold a Poppy Appeal at their fixture with Oldham on Tuesday.

The atmosphere will be set as the Sea Cadet Corp Band Ellesmere Port provide pre-match entertainment for the League 1 fixture, while a collection will be held to raise funds for those who served their country.

Admission to the ground

By JOANNE BROCK

has been cut to just £5 for senior citizens.

Jeff Harrison, Royal British Legion County Field Officer, said: "We are grateful for Tranmere's assistance with the Poppy Appeal."

Tranmere chief executive Mick Horton added: "The Royal British Legion is the leading charity safeguarding the welfare, interests and memory of those who served their country, and I urge Tranmere fans to be generous in their support."

Fans to pick new badge

Cardiff City are marking the end of an era at Ninian Park by giving supporters the opportunity to vote for their new club badge.

The Bluebirds moved into their current home in 1910, but a new ground is being built and they will switch stadiums at the end of the 2008/09 season.

To mark the occasion Cardiff have released seven designs for fans to look at on their official club website.

Supporters can vote for their favourite logo over the next three weeks.

A club spokesman said: "The 2008/09 season will be a special one. We will be putting in place a number of initiatives to commemorate our final season at Ninian Park."
