Tigers' Wembley quartet head for the record books

CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY-OFFS FINAL

BRISTOL CITY V HULL CITY

Four players, one match, the right result – followed by the soccer landmark of playing in all four senior divisions of English Football.

Four Hull City players – Ian Ashbee, Ryan France, Boaz Myhill and Andy Dawson – move a step closer to the target if they guide their club to victory in the Championship Play-Offs Final against Bristol City tomorrow.

The quartet have been with the Tigers since their League 2 days and have played a key role in the Humberside club's rise through the divisions.

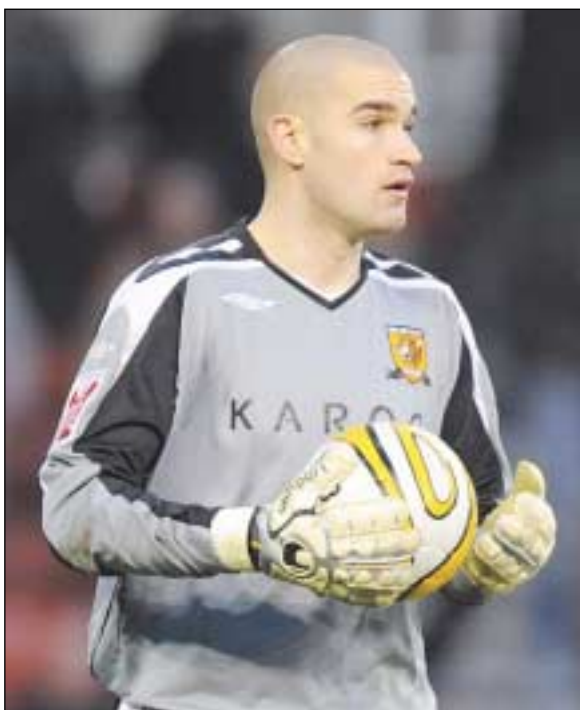

Manager Phil Brown said: "To win promotion and complete the full set would be a magnificent achievement for those boys.

"They have seen a lot of change at this club over the past few years and to finally make it to the Premiership would be just reward for all their hard work and loyalty.

"I'm sure they never thought they would reach the top flight but now they are just one game away.

"Promotion would be great for everyone connected with Hull, but for those four it would be that little bit extra special."

Hull captain Ashbee has been with the club since June

MYHILL: Has risen through Football League with the Tigers

2002 and the 31-year-old has totted up 208 appearances for the Tigers.

Ashbee has formed a strong understanding with Dawson in the Hull defence, who joined City a year later from Scunthorpe on a free transfer.

Since then, the left-back has played 167 matches in the club's colours and was voted

TALISMAN: Striker Trundle is in red hot form for Robins

American dad and a mum from Llangollen and won a full Wales cap in March!

Bristol City's tilt for the top, lead by in-form striker Lee Trundle, has been praised by England Under-21 manager Stuart Pearce.

He told the BBC website: "The south west does not yet have a top flight side so the catchment area is fantastic.

"I played against them in a League Cup Semi-Final and they brought about 5,000 supporters to Nottingham. I think they'll do themselves credit if they go up."

The Championship Play-Offs Final is live on Saturday at 3pm on Sky Sports 1.

STAND DOWN: Soldiers dismantle U's temporary seating

ARMY DISPOSAL

The Army were sent in to dismantle a large object at Colchester United last week – Layer Road's temporary stand.

Squaddies arrived at the Essex club's ground on Friday morning to take down the two-year-old structure.

With the U's set to move into

By ANDY LULHAM

their new Cuckoo Farm home next season, the 150-seat stand has become surplus to requirements.

The seats were installed in the summer of 2006 to allow visiting Championship fans to be located close to the other away supporters in the Layer Road End terracing.

United are inviting offers for the temporary stand from Non-League sides – and several have already been in touch.

Interested parties should contact Caroline Pugh at Colchester.

School search

Northampton Town are on the lookout for local schools to pay a visit to Sixfields Stadium next season.

The Cobblers will provide free tickets to one school's pupils and teachers at every home match.

A photo will also be included in the programme and the Northampton Chronicle & Echo, alongside a feature on pupils, staff or further information on the school.

Students will also be invited onto the pitch at half-time to take part in 5-a-side matches.

To nominate a school contact Trudie Kirby at Northampton Town.

FLIGHT CLUB

Gillingham fans can take a flight over the KRBS Priestfield Stadium this summer - and raise money for charity.

The Kent club will be hosting a Marie Curie Cancer Care Zipwire spectacular on Saturday July 5.

After climbing to the top of the Gills' stadium, supporters will be able to Zip through the air in exhilarating style from one side of the Priestfield pitch to the other.

For your chance to take part call Marie Curie Cancer Care on 01883 832665.

Badges for O's

They may have ended the season without a trophy but Leyton Orient have plenty of badges to their name.

Coaches and handball players from the Leyton Orient Community Sports Programme featured on Blue Peter last month.

After being shown the basics by the Orient players, presenters Zoe Salmon and Andy Akinwolere joined in a handball game in the studio.

Orient Development Manager Trevor East said: "It showcased the good work of our Sports Programme and was a great experience for everyone."

DREAMER: Ryan knew Donny would face Leeds at Wembley

John is a daydream believer..

Doncaster Rovers chairman John Ryan had a premonition his side would face Yorkshire rivals Leeds at Wembley.

The neighbours are bracing themselves for a titanic showdown in the League 1 Play-Offs Final on Sunday.

But Ryan is not surprised. He dreamed - before the season had even kicked off - the clubs would clash in the big one.

Multi-millionaire Ryan has pumped a significant chunk of his personal fortune into Rovers since becoming the owner. He readily admits he is pinching himself at the prospect of facing Leeds with such a massive prize at stake.

He said: "At the beginning of the season I dreamed it was a Leeds versus Doncaster final - and it is on!"

"I knew we were capable of beating Southend over two legs in the Semi-Final, and we're capable of beating Leeds in the Final.

"It will be fantastic for everyone connected to the club and we can't wait. These are the sort of games you get involved in football for."

Rovers' player of the season Richie Wellens insists Leeds can be beaten.

He said: "Leeds are massive with a lot of tradition and history and I am sure that they will be favourites on Sunday.

"But what we've got to remember is that we aren't playing the Leeds of six or seven years ago when they were a top Premiership side. We are playing Leeds United, the League 1 side.

"We beat them at Elland Road and were unlucky to lose the return."

Leeds' veteran striker Dougie Freedman says nothing less than promotion will make up for the sacrifice of leaving his kids in London to help Gary McAllister's men return to the Championship.

Freedman, 34 on Sunday, admits it was a big wrench to leave his wife and young family and move north on loan from Crystal Palace in March.

He said: "I didn't come up to Leeds and leave my young kids in London to come up and mess about. I came for one reason - to help the team get promotion.

"It's one thing to play at Wembley. But I don't think you'll remember it with much pleasure if you don't come away with winners' medals."

Doncaster play Leeds at 3pm on Sunday, live on Sky Sports 2.

Chris on the crest of a wave

Chris Dagnall is a bit on the big side to be a water baby.

But his water workouts have proved a miracle cure and the young Rochdale striker will be looking to make a splash at Wembley on Monday.

Dagnall, 22, can fire Dale to their first promotion since 1969 in the League 2 Play-Offs Final against Stockport.

In the Semi-Final second leg against Darlington he netted a crucial first-half goal, and then scored in the tense penalty shootout as Keith Hill's men went through after banging in five out of five.

Dagnall, who started at Tranmere, admits Wembley was the last thing on his mind last September when a ruptured cruciate ligament looked to have ended his season.

He said: "When I did the injury, the surgeon told me I would be out for nine months and everybody wrote me off for the rest of this term.

"But I was back within five-and-a-half months and a big part of my recovery was the work in the swimming pool, where I did something called aqua-running.

"For the early part of my recovery I could only move the knee in straight lines, but I was able to do forward and backward running in water.

"Because it's a non-impact exercise, there was no friction on the knee joint and that really boosted my fitness and built up my leg muscles when, normally, I wouldn't have been able to do anything.

"All the time I was eyeing the Play-Offs, so I'm just delighted that the lads were able to get there."

Dale visit Wembley for the first time when they face north-west rivals Stockport.

The Edgeley Park outfit have lost all four previous visits to the home of football.

But manager Jim Gannon - who played in each of those County defeats - insists the occasion will provide lifelong memories for both sets of supporters.

He said: "Two years ago we came close, but ten thousand fans turned out to show their support and the overwhelming feeling was of the love they have for the club.

"It may not be a Premier League title or the Champions League Final but, for these fans, it doesn't get much better than this."

The League 2 Play-Offs Final on Monday is live at 3pm on Sky Sports 2.

WATER BIT OF LUCK: Dagnall is fit and ready for action

Grecians celebrate passport to victory

Exeter City's players are going to do their celebrating in Magaluf on their summer holidays - without striker Richard Logan who does not have a passport!

The Grecians are returning to The Football League after beating Cambridge United 1-0 with a Rob Edwards goal in the Blue Square Premier Play-Offs Final at Wembley.

It is five years since Exeter dropped out of The League - when the club very nearly went out of business at the same time.

But the Play-Offs victory has filled the players with hope as they prepare to go away - without 18-goal leading scorer Logan, who forgot to renew his passport!

But cheery Logan, 25 - who has 47 goals in a career at nine clubs - said: "I am going to relax and enjoy the summer in Exeter. I can't go anywhere without a passport."

"The celebrations were fantastic, and I was really pleased for the fans. This is a big club and they deserve promotion."

"Morecambe beat us in last year's Play-Offs Final and made a good job of the step up to League 2, and we can do the same."

"If we play as we did against

WE ARE GOING UP: Exeter celebrate after clinching promotion to The Football League

Cambridge, we will be a match for anyone.

"Our manager Paul Tisdale had a plan, and it worked. He told us to relax and treat it as a normal away game, so we didn't hire special suits for the occasion."

Tisdale joined the club from Team Bath in June 2006.

He added: "Everyone has pulled together for so long to achieve this."

"It is time to pay tribute to the administration staff at the club, and the board of directors."

"I am glad to have been part of the club when we won promotion."

"There have been others that have contributed before me and those that have continued to do a fantastic job when the club was struggling just five years ago."

Striker Neil is charity runner

Millwall striker Neil Harris has urged Lions fans to join him and club captain Paul Robinson on a charity run to raise money for the Everyman Cancer Campaign.

The 5km event takes place in Victoria Park, Hackney, on Sunday June 1.

Funds from the male-only event will go towards funding research into prostate and testicular cancer, which affects 37,000 men in the UK every year.

The 'Keep Your Eye On The Ball' run is being organised in partnership with the Professional Footballers' Association.

Lions' fans favourite Neil has previously fought testicular cancer.

He said: "The run gives lads a chance to get together and do something fun, and at the same time support a great cause."

"Testicular cancer is close to my heart so you can bet I will be up there fighting for first place."

HARRIS: Call for support

CREAM OF THE CROP

Plymouth Argyle have officially been crowned the Cream of Devon - after scooping a top honour for their Pilgrims' Passion ice cream!

The Devon County Show announced this week that the apple pie-flavoured treat has been named 'Best in Class' at the annual event.

Judges honoured the Argyle snack for its taste, texture and originality.

The award-winning ice cream is produced by Langage Farm in Plymouth and has been a big hit with Pilgrims supporters throughout its debut season at Home Park.

It is hand-made from Jersey and Guernsey milk, which gives the ice cream its unique and distinct creamy flavour.

Ingredients are sourced from Langage's own farm or other local farms within the South Hams area.

An Argyle spokesperson said: "It's a special day for everyone with a Green heart and the icing on the cake of another exciting season at Home Park."

GRAYSON: Premier visit

Soccer PM

Blackpool boss Simon Grayson rocked up to Downing Street on Monday to meet Prime Minister Gordon Brown.

The Seasiders' manager was at Number 10 for the Show Racism the Red Card Hall of Fame Awards, having become a patron of the charity earlier this season.

The Hall of Fame honours current and former players who have given time to help eradicate racism in football, and educate youngsters about the negative effects racism has on society.
