2 men went to mow and came back with a trophy

Southampton may have had a bumpy ride this season, but their pitch is like a bowling green.

And that has earned the joint-team of Andy Gray and Graeme Mills the prize as Championship Groundsman of the Year.

The pair took over from previous groundsman Dave Roberts in January, and have already been honoured by The Playing Surfaces Committee.

Andy said: "I sent Dave Roberts a text to tell him the good news, and of course he is trying to claim all the credit!

"In fairness he did such a good job that we have just carried on Dave's good work. There has been no need to change the maintenance programmes he set up."

Ricky Rawlins, Dan Osborne and Danny Silvestri also work on Saints' pitch.

Andy added: "Ricky and Dan also work two days a week at Bournemouth - and their ground finished fourth in their division. So it has been a good year for us and we are looking forward to receiving the award."

They beat Stoke City's Andy Jackson and West Brom's Rob Lane to the prize. All visiting managers and referees mark a pitch out of five after each game. At the end of February those marks are averaged out.

The top three receive a close inspection by The Playing Surfaces Committee, and under the guidance of Dr Stephen Baker they decide on the best pitches.

Baker has been working for the Sports Turf Research Unit since 1980, and is Head of Sports Turf Science.

Winning groundsmen in each division receive a certificate, an engraved glass trophy and a cheque for £250.

GOOD AS NEW: Barnett

Shrewsbury Town had to get to grips with a new stadium this season - and nobody did so better than groundsman Richard Barnett.

The Shrews moved from Gay Meadow to New Meadow last summer.

And thanks to months of hard work on the newly-laid pitch, Richard managed to beat Macclesfield Town's Mark Mathers and Joe Aylett at MK Dons to the prize of League 2 Groundsman of the Year.

Richard said: "It's a great honour to receive such an award, especially as this is the first season in the new stadium.

"This reflects on the hard work put in by my team and we are very proud.

"I'd like to thank the chairman and the board for their support through the season and giving me the chance to work in such a magnificent stadium."

THANKS MIKE

Cheltenham Town's Mike Heather has been awarded a certificate by The Playing Surfaces Committee - in recognition of the high-quality of Waddon Road's pitch over the last nine years

He has won Groundsman of the Year three times since the club entered The Football League in 1999, and is retiring at the age of 64.

Mike said: "I'll miss everything about the job. If I can still be of use, I don't mind helping out."

He will be replaced by Terry Roberts, who is currently in charge of the club's training pitches.

Ewan leads his team to the top of the grass

Nottingham Forest's Ewan Hunter is top of the grass at The City Ground.

He has won the League One Groundsman of the Year title for the second successive season.

It is the fourth campaign running where Ewan has been involved in the awards.

He finished runner-up in his first season at the club - and before that finished second when at previous side Rushden & Diamonds.

Ewan beat Mike Heather of Cheltenham Town and Hartlepool United's Dave Brown to the latest prize.

He is supported by a team of five at Forest - Matt Tietjen, Craig Watson, Chris Moody, Craig Sharpe and George Carless.

Ewan said: "It's been another great team effort this season and I have to pass on a lot of the credit to the team I have working with me.

"People ask me what the secret is but there's not one. It's all about hard, back-breaking work and if you put the effort into it, hopefully you get the rewards.

"We are obviously very proud of The City Ground surface but we've also done a lot of work on the training pitch and the Academy, where there has been a massive improvement this season."

Simon gets all jittery over trip to see kids!

Preston North End's Simon Whaley produced a fine performance off the field during a recent school visit.

Everyone who sponsors a player at Deepdale nominates a local school or group to benefit from an appearance from one of the squad.

Winger Whaley visited Kennington Primary School and was put through a question and answer session - before signing autographs for pupils.

The trip forms part of Preston's Community scheme, and the club also gave signed replica shirts to the school.

Whaley said: "It went well, but it is more nerve racking standing in front of a room of kids than it is to play football in front of thousands!"

Twenty-five children from the school will attend tomorrow's fixture against Ipswich Town, thanks to a donation from the Lancashire County Council SHIRTY: Whaley hands Preston tops to youngsters during visit to Kennington Primary School Road Safety Group.

Preston have also announced a partnership with local side Cockerham Juniors.

The Lilywhites will send UEFA A qualified coaches to help the progression of youngsters aged six to 15.

Youth Development Officer

Darren Finch said: "Every professional footballer will have started in junior football, and it is no different today. To find the best young players in the Preston area we have got to start fashioning links with junior teams again."

"Cockerham are one club that we hope to help. We aim to bring a high standard of coaching to their teams and it obviously gives us the chance to have a good look at their players.

"Every child should have the opportunity to go as high as possible and you never know where it may lead."

FANS v FANS

Plymouth Argyle are hosting special end of season matches at Home Park.

Two sets of supporters will go head-to-head at 11.00am on April 27.

They will be managed by club legends Geoff Crudgington and Sean McCarthy. Admission is free but cash raised from events around the ground will go towards the Pilgrims Community department.

After the match Argyle's Disability team will then take on current National champions Liverpool in a friendly game.

Spokesman Rick Cowdery said: "It promises to be a great day."

Screen idols!

West Brom could become Championship title winners on Monday Night Football.

Tony Mowbray's side are two points clear at the top of the table. A win over Southampton will ensure they lift silverware - if second-placed Stoke lose to Colchester tomorrow.

Either way, they could still seal promotion. Kick off against Saints is 7.45pm on Sky Sports 1.

A round-up of Championship action will be shown on ITV's Championship Goals on Sunday at 10.45am.

APE CAPER

Mansfield Town will swing through the trees next week on a special team bonding trip.

Manager Paul Holland is taking his players to Sherwood Forest, where they will take part in an adventure course called Go Ape.

The Stags boss said: "The players deserve this and it keeps them all together."

"It will be a great bonding exercise and will keep spirit up in the camp. The lads are buzzing at the minute."

Chairman fires a £5,000 boost for cancer charity

Lincoln City chairman Steff Wright hot-footed it across burning wood - and helped raise £5,000 for charity.

He was one of several Imps' staff who took part in a special event on behalf of Macmillan Cancer Support.

Manager Peter Jackson is currently taking time out to battle throat cancer and the fundraiser took place at Sincil Bank.

Staff were joined by 30 fans and were given a one hour seminar by fire specialists Survivorability UK. Each participant then removed their shoes and socks before walking along a six-meter bed of hot embers.

Wright said: "This shows the effect that Peter Jackson has had on Lincoln City."

"I'm sure everyone who took part will have increased their self-belief and confidence in taking a step into the unknown."

From the collection, £1,000 will be handed over to Yorkshire Cancer Centre at St James's Institute of Oncology in Leeds. They have supported boss Jackson through his treatment.

Wright added: "We are truly grateful for the kind generosity shown by our fantastic fans."

The club held a bucket collection before the game against Brentford to raise £1,260 of the cash.

Trust Chairman John Roddam said: "I think the amount from the collection alone reflects the affection for both Peter Jackson and Macmillan."

Marketing manager James Lazenby also took part in the walk.

He said: "It was a great success, and there were no injuries!"

League wants fans to be organ donors

Football League Chairman Lord Mawhinney is behind a campaign encouraging fans to sign up to the NHS Organ Donor Register.

Clubs across the country will use their final home matches of the season to highlight the importance of the ODR in a bid to save lives.

Lord Mawhinney said: "I believe that our game can play a significant part in delivering new registrations to the NHS Organ Donor Register.

"Through The Football League club network, we have the power to reach out together to supporters with a powerful and compelling case for their support. I am pleased to support this worthwhile initiative and invite all our member clubs to help to make a positive difference to the lives of literally thousands of people across the UK. Football has a unique part to play in making this happen."

LIFE SAVER: Supporters are urged to carry Donor Cards

The appeal coincides with the 40th anniversary of the first heart transplant to be performed in the UK.

Over 9,000 people currently need a transplant to save or dramatically improve their lives.

More than 3,000 transplants were carried out last year, but around 1,000 people die every year before receiving the transplant they need.

Supporters interested in joining the NHS list can text the word 'GIVE' to 84118 during matches.

UK Transplant's Marketing and Campaigns Manager Tamsin May said: "We welcome support from clubs in helping to spread the message that transplants save thousands of lives every year thanks to the generosity of individual organ donors and their families."

Yahoo! Young Owls are off to play Kalamazoo

Lucky Sheffield Wednesday youngsters are undertaking an end of season tour in the USA!

The trip is part of the club's link up with American side Kalamazoo Outrage.

The Michigan-based team are preparing for a debut season in the country's Midwest Division of the Central Conference.

The Owls' Under-11 and Under-13 outfits are experiencing life on the other side of the pond as they play Outrage's youth sides.

GAFFER: McAuley is in charge of the Owls' youth set-up

Academy manager Sean McAuley said: "It's a fantastic opportunity for the boys. We're playing games in a different country, a completely different environment and that can only be of benefit to them.

"The trip is excellent in terms of development, on and off the pitch. It gives the boys some understanding of what it takes to become a footballer.

"By taking them away while wearing the crest of Sheffield Wednesday, they are experiencing something completely new and we as an Academy are finding out more about the character and attitude of the players."

Cuckoo land for the U's Search for a Soccerette...

Colchester United's 71-year stay at Layer Road comes to an end this weekend as they head off for pastures new.

The clash with Stoke City is their final home match of the campaign, and the club will move to Cuckoo Farm when they begin next term.

To mark the end of an era, they have a special itinerary in place for tomorrow's fixture.

The schedule includes a samba band, commentary played out around the ground and a guard of honour for the team ahead of kick-off.

At half-time the U's will welcome the latest members to their Hall of Fame on to the pitch.

The afternoon ends with the Player of the Year award ceremony taking place on the Layer Road turf.

Girls at Coventry City are getting their kit on to become the club's official Soccerette.

The Sky Blues have reduced an initial list of 24 hopefuls to a final ten.

The girls have all been featuring in match day programmes since December, and will discover who is the overall winner after the last game of the season. The winning Soccerette will land a professional photographic portfolio worth £2,500.

A club spokesperson said: "At Coventry we are committed to building our female supporter base across all age-groups and it is hoped that the Sky Blues Soccerette will help the club move nearer our goal of further female inclusion."
