Goal-king Chris faces hair-raising challenge

Club put pigs on parade

SUPER ADDICK: Striker Chris picks up monthly award

Chris Iwelumo enjoyed the perfect month – until he realised he may miss Charlton's Christmas party because he cannot grow a moustache.

The striker is the Championship Powerade Player of the Month for November after netting three times from five games, including last minute winners at Southampton and Bristol City.

Iwelumo, 29, also made his international bow in Scotland B's clash with the Republic of Ireland.

But he revealed: "The invites for the lads' Christmas party have gone out and you're only allowed to go along if you have a moustache.

"I haven't shaved above my lip for ages, but nothing's happening.

"At this rate, I'll have to draw one on with a felt-tip pen if I want to join in the celebrations."

Iwelumo has plenty to shout about after helping to get Charlton's promotion charge back on track.

He has scored seven times this season since arriving at The Valley from Colchester during the summer. He admitted: "I feel right at home. It's a massive club and everything is geared towards us winning promotion. All I have to do is concentrate on playing.

NETBUSTER: Iwelumo has been on top goalscoring form

"I don't have to worry about whether our training pitches are going to be flooded or where I'm going to stop for breakfast before training. Everything is laid on for you at the training ground.

"We're quite pampered really - and I love it.

"There's a great atmosphere in the dressing room and there's always plenty of banter flying about. All the lads get on really well. I know players always say that, but we genuinely do."

Iwelumo pipped Dean Windass of Hull City, Ipswich Town's Jonathan Walters and Sheffield Wednesday's Akpo Sodje to win the award.

He added: "To be honest, I was just pleased to be shortlisted. I honestly thought Walters or Sodje would win."

Panel chairman Chris Kamara said: "He scored vital goals at important times and helped the Addicks win more matches than any other team in the Championship."

Stars strip for a date

Wolves' saucy charity calendar has proved so popular that the club are considering another print run.

First team players including goalkeeper Matt Murray and midfielder Michael Lightly stripped down for last month's photoshoot.

Wolves defender Rob Edwards is also included. He admitted: "We think it is a great calendar and it is for a good cause."

The calendar is being sold for £5 and all proceeds go to Broadmeadow Special Nursery School, which is half a mile away from Molineux.

Twenty thousand copies were initially printed. A Wolves spokesperson said: "They have sold so well that we will look into the situation next month to see whether it is worth printing some more."

Jackie Proffitt, a teaching assistant at the school, said: "They got in touch with us to suggest putting together this calendar of players to help us raise cash."

Chesterfield are playing their part in the Keep Britain Tidy Campaign by launching a 'Dirty Pig' scheme.

Spireites players Barry Roach and Felix Bastians helped raise awareness of the project as it got underway last week.

The club hope the initiative - which is aimed at 18-24 year olds who drop packaging from fast food outlets - will help curb the amount of litter in the town's streets.

The League 2 side have teamed up with Chesterfield Borough Council, and produced posters of men and women who have been transformed into pigs due to their littering habits.

Beneath each picture reads the slogan: What does dropping litter make you look like?

Councillor Ian Openshaw said: "We hope that raising the profile will help keep Chesterfield cleaner."

Stop the violence at home

Leeds and Port Vale teamed up to play their part in the campaign against domestic violence.

Both sets of players, as well as managers Dennis Wise and Lee Sinnott, wore white ribbons ahead of their recent League 1 encounter.

The ribbon is associated with ending domestic violence and signifies a pledge to never 'committing, condoning or remaining silent about violence'.

The Leeds Domestic Violence campaign is two months long and run by West Yorkshire Police and Safer Leeds. It is aimed at raising awareness and targeting those suspected of committing the offence.

Port Vale Chairman Bill Bratt said: "This is a serious issue, and at Port Vale we will do what we can to raise awareness of this persistent problem in society."

Clayton has a big hand for keepers

Clayton Ince picked up the League 1 Powerade Player of the Month award for November - and then dedicated it to every goalkeeper in the country.

The Walsall stopper beat off competition from three strikers to land the gong. Nicky Forster from Brighton, Adam Boyd of Leyton Orient and Nottingham Forest's Nathan Tyson were also nominated.

Leeds keeper Casper Angerken picked up the prize two months ago, and Ince is proud to know goalkeepers are getting the credit they deserve.

He said: "I'm delighted to pick up this award, and it is great to represent the keepers in the League.

"As a goalie you just look to keep clean sheets, and when you get them you are appreciated.

"I'm happy with my performances, it is good that everyone has noticed how I have played. But credit must also go to the rest of the side, too, because we are gelling well now."

Ince kept three clean sheets for the Saddlers in the league, and one in the FA Cup, during an impressive month.

Manager Richard Money said: "I'm really pleased that he has done his job well this month.

"He has been an important part of a successful defensive

KEEP IT UP: Walsall stopper Clayton Ince had a top month

unit. Long may that continue."

Last week League Leader told you how Ince, 35, has opened a football academy in his homeland of Trinidad & Tobago to encourage more players to make it as professionals abroad.

He is not ready to hang up his gloves yet, though.

He added: "When you get to this stage of your career it is good to know that you can still achieve things. That's why I am happy to pick up this honour."

Chris Kamara said: "Ince helped Walsall to their first unbeaten month of the season, which is a great effort. They had a difficult start to life in League 1 but his form has helped stabilise the team and turn around their fortunes."

Fans dig deep for Our Boys

Walsall have sent hundreds of Christmas gifts to British troops thanks to the generosity of their supporters.

Donations were handed in at the Banks's Stadium reception as the Saddlers attempt to play their part in cheering soldiers who are away in Iraq or Afghanistan over the festive period.

Gifts handed in varied from packets of nuts and mince pies, to santa hats and selection boxes.

Walsall receptionist Angelina Hardingham said: "We had a great response from our fans. Hopefully, this will help give the troops a very Merry Christmas!"

Other Football League clubs are expected to follow suit by sending gifts this month.

Walsall spokesman Dan Mole added: "We are pleased to play our part and must thank our supporters for the kindness they have shown."

Crack-shot Jack says 'I am back!'

Jack Lester has become a goal-king at Chesterfield as part of the Three Wise Men.

The forward was convinced a move to the Spireites was right for him in the summer, as he joined up with experienced front men Wayne Allison, 39, and Steve Fletcher, 35.

His instincts proved to be spot on. He has already scored 15 goals and been named as the League 2 Powerade Player of the Month for November.

Lester, 32, said: "We've built some good partnerships here. In the summer I decided to come here from Nottingham Forest because I had played with Wayne Allison before at Sheffield United, and I knew Steve Fletcher could score goals. I just had a feeling we could do well together, and it's been a great start."

Lester scored six goals from four matches last month, the highlight being his first hat-trick at Lincoln.

He added: "Obviously once you start scoring goals you feel great. That hat-trick proved how confident I was.

"It wasn't the first time I've got three in one half, though. I scored an 11 minute treble for Grimsby in the League Cup in 1997.

"It's always a great feeling. The way we play football I would expect more goals to come, too.

"Our wingers provide crosses and we just finish

JACK THE LAD: Hot-shot Lester has been scoring for fun them off. It's going well and we need to stay around the play-off places."

Lester's season has been dealt an unfortunate blow in the build up to Christmas.

The forward suffered an ankle injury against MK Dons and will be sidelined for several weeks.

He said: "I'm really pleased to have been rewarded for my performances but the fact I'm now out injured is really tough.

"We're hopeful my ankle is not too bad, so I'll be aiming to pick up where I left off when I return to action."

Chris Kamara said: "He's been amongst the goals and helped his team to some terrific results. There's no doubt he could play at a higher level but you have to prove it and he's done that."

Mick's men on the box

Mick McCarthy's Wolves host Burnley at Molineux on Saturday evening in a live Championship clash.

The Black Country club are in the promotion picture but Owen Coyle's Clarets are also on form and are unbeaten in their last five. The action starts at 5.20pm on Sky Sports 1.

On Sunday Aidy Boothroyd takes Championship leaders Watford to Stoke's Britannia Stadium. The game gets underway at 1.15pm on Sky Sports 1.

FA Cup action comes from Swansea on Monday night as the League 1 club face Non-League Horsham in a Second Round replay. Kick off is 7.45 pm on Sky Sports 1.

Charlton's encounter with Ipswich is BBC Radio 5Live Extra's commentary game on Saturday at 3pm.

ITV1's The Championship rounds up the weekend's action on Sunday morning at 10.25am.

Guv'nor greets Queen on royal day for Dons

MK Dons gave a Royal welcome as Her Majesty The Queen officially opened their new stadium:mk home.

It is only the second football stadium Queen Elizabeth II has opened, and 15,000 were inside the ground for the special occasion.

Derby County's Pride Park was the first she opened, back in 1997. The Queen was accompanied by the The Duke of Edinburgh as she made her visit to Milton Keynes.

The Dons moved into their new home at the start of the season, and manager Paul Ince and chairman Pete Winkelman greeted the Royal couple.

Her Majesty also took the time to meet every first team player.

Winkelman said: "It was every bit as magical as we had expected. I'm still taking it all in. As a football club we do not have any history, but through moments like this we are creating it."

"The players could not quite believe what was happening. As a club we are really moving in the right direction now and Her Majesty seemed very impressed by our home."

By DEAN JONES

The Queen was driven into the ground and took her seat to watch an incredible dance display of 1,800 local people on the pitch.

Paul Ince's daughter, Ria, then played a part in proceedings as she met The Queen.

Ria handed the Royal a single red balloon, which was released as a sign that the ground is now officially open.

Winkelman added: "When The Queen was driven into the ground it became like an episode of Star Wars as we had booming music and all of the schoolchildren dressed in white running towards the pitch to perform their show."

"It was incredible and the day went exactly as planned."

The day had extra meaning as 2007 is Milton Keynes' 40th birthday, and the Royal couple's diamond wedding anniversary.

New League survey aims to give fans a say on the future

The Football League have released a survey for supporters to help shape the game's future.

The online questionnaire targets fans across the country in order to try to make the match day experience more enjoyable.

Basic areas are covered, including opinions on ticket and merchandise pricing at your club.

But more detailed aspects of the game, such as whether clubs should be made to field their strongest available side in cup competitions and the use of goal-line technology are also tackled.

The survey also asks football followers for their views on the importance of Community and Youth Development programmes.

Football League chairman Lord Mawhinney said: "The views of football supporters are very important to The League and its clubs."

"This survey is an opportunity for fans to help guide us, as we move forward."

"The last survey we conducted, on this scale, was completed by more than 43,000 supporters. It provided an important barometer of supporter opinion and made a positive contribution to The League's decision making process.

"In particular, supporters' views were influential as we developed our new Agents' Regulations, which prohibited the previously common practice which allowed agents to represent a player and a club in the same transfer deal."

"They were also a factor in the decision to introduce a smoke-free policy at all League matches from the beginning of this season.

"I very much hope that supporters will take this opportunity to make a difference, once again."

More than 500,000 outbound e-mails will be sent to registered supporters, asking them to contribute their views and opinions.

Additionally, all other fans will be able to participate online, via The Football League's website.

It could also prove very worthwhile, as five pairs of tickets are available for a Play-Off Final of your choice in May at Wembley Stadium.

The Football League Supporters' Survey results will be published in the New Year.
